

Anobody / Whole Health Network Services

Our players report that our services enable them to at least double career revenue.

The reason is simple. Veteran years pay better than rookie years – usually a lot.

A single extra year makes a big difference in the exit bankroll.

Our players miss fewer games. Their coaches think they're supermen because they heal so fast – usually faster than the rookies.

Long and Strong

Our linemen players usually they're still going strong after 9-10 years.

Last week, John St Clair (Cleveland - OT), reported he retired because he wanted to. After 11 years, he said he felt so good that he could have played 4 more years. Now he's comfortable, retired, and healthy – it's time to kick back.

John's teammate, Kenyon Coleman (Cleveland – DT), moved to Dallas this year. Kenyon is 10 year DT veteran – and is still going strong enough to be a starting anchorman with the Dallas defense.

Kenyon and his wife will tell you straight up that our technology changed his career. So will John and his wife.

At First they Wobbled

These guys could barely walk when I met them. They were in bad shape.

Within 2 weeks, they were mostly mended, now 2 years later they're both going strong. Here is what we did:

1. We Fixed their backs
2. We Fixed their knees
3. We Fixed their ankles & shoulders
4. Then we fixed their energy.

When we were done, they were faster, and stronger than they ever were. The combination of their talents, experience, and restored health, put them back on top - - for as long as they want to stay there.

For John, that's kicking back with a body that feels good; for Kenyon, it's busting through the other team's offensive line in violent pursuit of the poor bugger with the ball.

The Down Side

You have a simple choice:

- You can play on, or play out.
- You can take care of yourself
- Or not.
- It's that simple.

The ability to play on and be healthy is not in the training room – nor in the team doctor's office.

You already know the bad scores for other players:

- Years until forced retirement?
- Probability of Lifetime disability?
- Average lifespan?

These bad stats don't happen to our players.

This power is in your head, your heart, and right here.

- It is the knowledge
- and the tools you need
- take care of yourself for your whole life –
- no matter where you play next year.
- Only you can do it.

We don't do miracles – but our technology is awfully close.

You need to own it. Use it every day.

Without it, unrecovered injury piles up. The pile gets you. That's where and how your prime goes.

Today, you will walk out knowing we can help you feel better. But you will only win when you let us really help.
